Replere

About: Replere is a natural skincare line, full of powerful antioxidants, developed by leading dermatologist Dr. Debbie Palmer. The range features potent antiaging ingredients, including Coffea arabica extract, which work synergistically to stop free radicals in their tracks, helping to reduce skin damage and reverse the visible signs of aging.

I am enjoying these Replere products!

They were developed by a doctor who understands that antioxidants are good when taken internally and when applied topically. Replere has products available to help you inside and out.

The Replere Essentials Kit is a great way to kick start your beauty routine. It includes the following fullsize products:

- Deep Clean & Clarify Face Wash
- Protect & Rejuvenate Day Lotion
- Restore & Fortify Beauty Shooters

The Deep Clean & Clarify Face Wash is very gentle, yet it cleans deeply. I didn't notice any redness or irritation, just a fresh clean feeling. The pump dispenser makes it easy to get just the right amount. It doesn't take much of this foamy cleanser to get my whole face clean.

The Protect & Rejuvenate Day Lotion can help correct issues you already have and protect against new ones. I was surprised to see that it isn't white like most lotions. It is brownish in color, but doesn't tint my very fair skin. It's very high in antioxidants and the ingredients sound almost good enough to eat.

The Restore & Fortify Beauty Shooters are actually good enough to eat! One serving a day delivers a powerful antioxidant boost. Before I tried my first shot, I made sure I had a bottle of water ready as a chaser. I didn't need it. These Shooters are absolutely delicious. It's a good thing they are in single serve containers, so I'm not tempted to drink a month's worth of antioxidants in one sitting.
